

EPP Ampitagnabo

The Ampitagnabo school has opted to enclose the school grounds with trees to delimit the village. Each year, during the reforestation season, the students reinforce the fence with “daro” (trees planted as cuttings). This year, they planted moringa for reforestation.